4th Annual FMCSA/MCSAP
Leadership Conference

Dear Conference Attendees

Working together to save lives has long been the heart and soul of the partnership between FMCSA and CVSA. And it's clear that this partnership is making a difference in highway safety.

As the motor carrier industry has continued to grow over the years, ensuring the safety of the commercial motor vehicle fleet traveling on our roadways has become an ever greater challenge for Federal, State, and local enforcement agencies. Nonetheless, the large truck fatality rate per 100 million miles traveled has continued its decline during this time and currently stands as the lowest fatality rate ever recorded since the U.S. Department of Transportation began tracking this figure in 1974. In addition, we saw an additional four percent decrease in large truck related fatalities in 2007, on top of the four percent decrease seen in 2006.

None of this would be possible without your hard work and dedication to highway safety. Still, we must be unrelenting in our efforts to prevent crashes. Everyone has an important part to play, and the preventative approaches are quite diverse:

- ~ Enforcement. From roadside inspections to carrier compliance reviews, dedicated enforcement officers are working to keep unsafe vehicles and unsafe carriers off our roads and highways.
- ~ Research. Technological advances holding great promise for safety improvements are being researched and tested by skilled engineers. Scientists are gaining new understanding of health and medical conditions and the impact on driving performance. Human behaviorists are examining improvements in driver training.
- ~ Communications. Knowledge is shared as knowledge is gained through improved communication practices among all the stakeholders. This includes the widespread sharing of "best practices" as well as enhanced software capabilities to help make needed information more readily accessible.

Working together - FMCSA and CVSA - we can continue to help save lives.

Through your attendance at this important conference - sharing, learning, and networking with other professionals - you'll certainly discover that you are making a big difference in highway safety.

We thank you for the life-saving work you perform every day.
